Waves

Obrazy mohou být vnímány jako prostor, meziprostor, tok či vlnění. Záznamy fragmentů nehmatatelného, neuchopitelného.

Vycházejí z menších sérií kreseb suchým pastelem. Cyklus Waves se zabývá rámováním uvnitř obrazu, fluidní typografií přes organické florální a faunální formy tvořící ornament.

Obraz je tvořen kombinací plánovaných a volně vznikajících prvků. Svým způsobem depogovská “kurátorovaná realita”. Pro obraz je podstatná předem ujasněná forma vyjádření, kde v procesu tvorby sleduji děj a nechávám pracovat “automatismus”. Tím vytvářím jakýsi záznam.

Podstatná je skladba jednotlivých prvků vůči sobě — jak spolu barevně a tvarově fungují. Prvotní jsou vlnité linie, které jsou základem pro další vrstvy, které se vzájemně prolínají. Vznikají tak rychlé záznamy. Propojení materiálů a konzistencí — hladký povrch, pojivo, olej, oil stick a olejový pastel, vytváří obrazy na pomezí kresby a malby.

The paintings can be perceived as space, interspace, flow, or undulation. Records of fragments that are intangible and elusive.

They originate from smaller series of drawings made with soft pastel. The Waves series focuses on framing within the painting, fluid typography over organic floral and faunal forms creating an ornament.

The painting is composed of a combination of planned and spontaneously emerging elements. In a way, it represents a de-pogovian “curated reality.” The painting relies on a pre-defined form of expression, where the creative process follows a narrative and allows “automatism” to operate. This creates a kind of record.

Essential is the arrangement of individual elements in relation to each other—how they interact in terms of color and shape. The primary elements are wavy lines that form the foundation for subsequent layers, which mutually interweave. This produces rapid records. The interplay of materials and consistencies—smooth surface, binder, oil, oil stick, and oil pastel—creates paintings on the border between drawing and painting.

Waves

Let It Ground series

Let It Ground

Série Let It Ground vznikla jako uzemňující celek v rámci širšího cyklu Waves, který se dlouhodobě zabývá kresbou jako záznamem pohybu. Linie zůstává hlavním výrazovým prostředkem, ale její role se proměňuje – mizí, rozplývá se, zanořuje se do plochy. Místy připomíná kouř nebo mlhovinu, ztrácí svou čitelnost a směřuje k abstrahované stopě. Výrazová rovina série osciluje mezi organickým tvarem a symbolickým znakem.

Černé stromy, ozářené ostře studeným bílým světlem, prostor je fialově hnědý. Zima se mění v jaro, černá v zelenou.

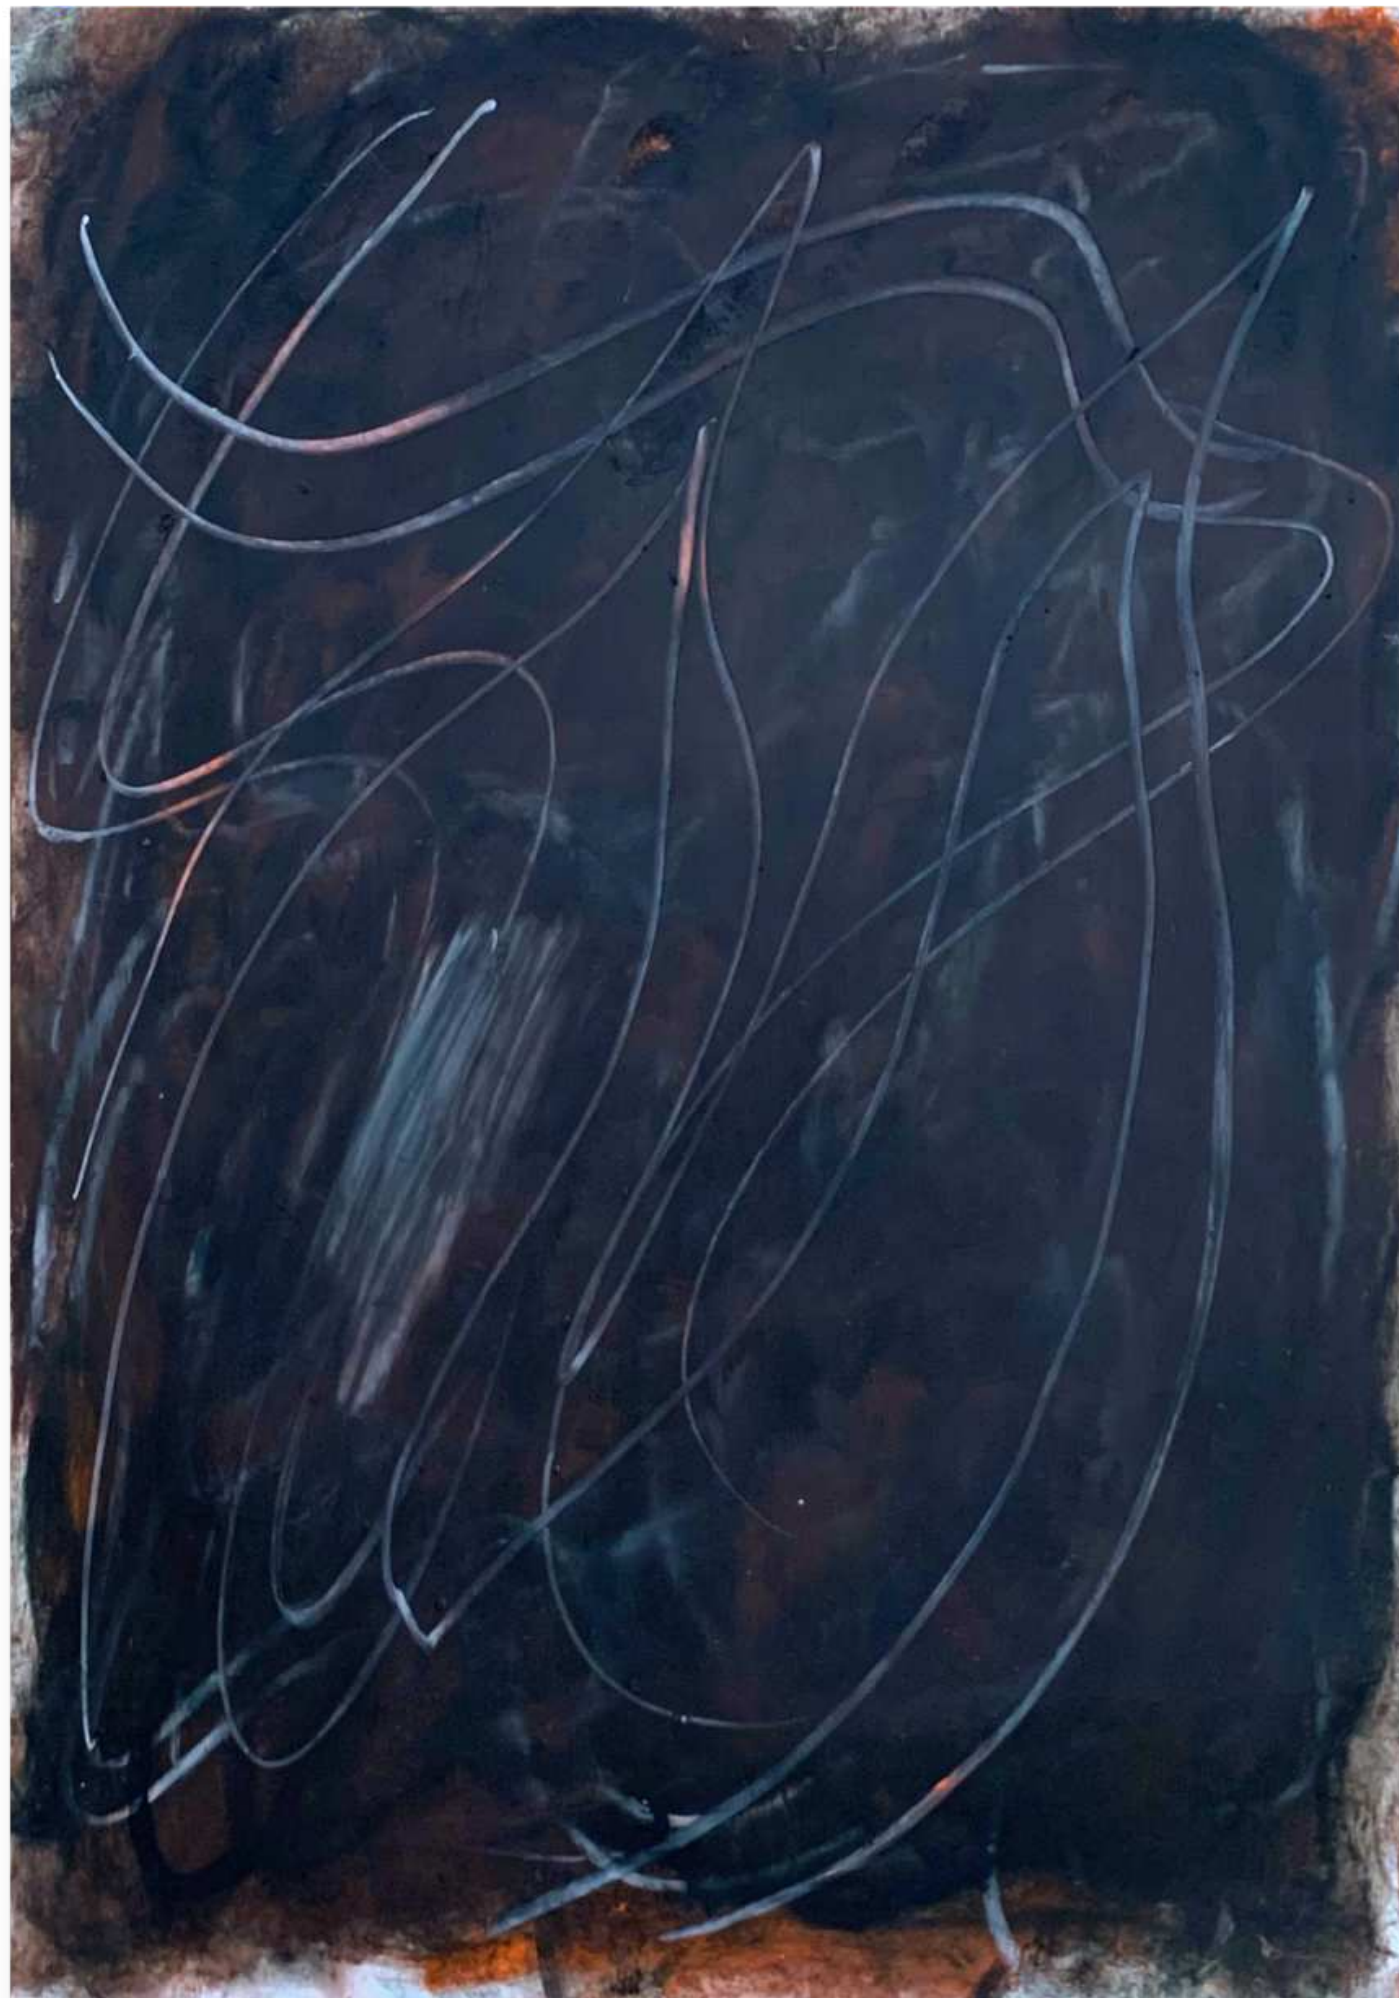

Proudění zůstává, ale obrací se směrem dovnitř. Linie se přibližují typografii – působí jako fragmenty znaků, symboly nebo nedokončené záznamy. Temně hnědé plochy evokují hlínu, dřevo nebo spálený povrch. Výrazný kontrast je nahrazen splynutím, tvary se rozpouštějí a vrstvy se navzájem prostupují.

The Let It Ground series was created as a grounding counterpart within the broader Waves cycle, which has long explored drawing as a record of movement. The line remains the primary expressive tool, but its function shifts — it fades, dissolves, submerges into the surface. At times, it resembles smoke or mist, losing its legibility and moving toward an abstract trace.

The visual language of the series oscillates between organic form and symbolic sign.

Black trees, illuminated by a sharply cold white light; the space is purplish brown. Winter turns into spring, black into green.

The flow remains, but it turns inward. Lines take on a typographic quality — appearing as fragments of signs, symbols, or incomplete records. Dark brown areas evoke soil, wood, or a scorched surface. Strong contrasts are replaced by merging; forms dissolve and layers permeate one another.
